

Wildcats projected starting line-up:

1 Naba Echols 5'8" G

This freshman from Memphis is the smallest player on the team.

3 Terry Nash 6'0" G

He was high-school conference player of the year. His bio says he likes to play basketball. Shocker.

5 Jordan Perez 6'3" G

This sophomore was team's leading scorer last season with 11.6 points per game.

24 Marcus Hall 6'3" G

A dual-sport athlete at East Grand Rapids, Hall is a junior who's still undecided.

50 Kenny Williams 6'6" F

Williams calls himself "Mr. Postman," and he is his high school's all-time winningest player.

HC Bill Sall

Entering his third season, Sall spent 11 years as the head coach at Ferris State.

*To comply with the Big Ten sportsmanship code, the "Bum of the Game" has been replaced by the "Player to Watch": Terry Nash

Good evening from Crisler Arena! Tonight marks the beginning of Squad 100's journey to the NCAA Tournament. Michigan enters this season ranked no. 25 in the AP poll and fresh off an excellent exhibition victory against Le Moyne. Northern Michigan, on the other hand, lost their last exhibition game in East Lansing, 94-53. Let's bring the energy tonight and start this season off by keeping it 100!

Briefly: The Wildcats have a 1-1 record in exhibition games thus far, falling to Little Brother but defeating Finlandia. Northern Michigan alumni includes the Angry Midget from East Lansing and former head football coach Lloyd Carr. In terms of notable alumni, they're also 1-1. Speaking of players of petite stature, Northern Michigan features a line-up similar to Le Moyne: guards galore. Only five players on the team are true forwards or centers, and only three players are 6'6" or taller. Likewise, five players are 6'1" or shorter.

On the Road Again: Donnell Cegers (#12) has spent much of his collegiate career transferring from school to school. A senior from Milwaukee, Cegers started his journey at Kishwaukee (Ill.) Community College. Before his junior year, however, he decided to move from Junior College to Division II, jumping to St. Cloud State. At the conclusion of last season, amidst an ambitious recruiting board, Cegers decided to transfer for the final time, this time to join the Wildcats.

The Rest of the Wildcats: Alex Mustert (#2), Wade Schetter (#4), Kenton Mack (#11), Isaiah Johnson (#13), Larry Burnette III (#15), Michael Williams (#20), Brett Branstrom (#21), and Vejas Grazulis (#52).

Keep it classy, Rage: As one of college basketball's premiere student sections, it's important that we refrain from swearing or using other slurs throughout the game. The University of Michigan is an institution of class, and as a collective representative, we need to uphold this standard.

Let's Get Ready to Rumble! Michigan basketball is officially BACK! After kicking off the season with a game vs. Northern Michigan, the Wolverines will go on to host the Elon Phoenix and the Xavier Musketeers before flying over to the Bahamas to play in the Battle 4 Atlantis. Let's hear it for the return of college hoops!

The Beilein Bowl: Last week, Crisler saw an influx of Beileins as John Beilein and his son, Patrick, went head-to-head last Friday for an exhibition match. While Michigan would go ahead to beat Le Moyne 74-52, that game was definitely a memorable one for the 25+ family members that came to watch.

Last Week's Highlights: Caris Levert and Derrick Walton looked good as they returned to the hardwood vs. Le Moyne. Caris finished the night with 22 points and 3 assists while Derrick went 4-for-5 on both FGs and FTs. Duncan Robinson also looked good from behind the arc, going 3-6 on 3P.
