

Cornhuskers projected starting line-up:

0 Tai Webster 6'4" G
Averages over 3 turnovers per game

5 Glynn Watson Jr 6'0" G
Snapchat is Glynn30

10 Jack McVeigh 6'8" F
Skinny Australian backup who is going to have to fill in for one of their injured starters

11 Evan Taylor 6'5" G
Was a HUGE Michigan Basketball fan in 2013 and tweeted that Trey Burke was his idol

12 Michael Jacobson 6'9" F
Looks like he skinned a bison and glued its hair to his head

HC Tim Miles
Used to diss his team on Twitter, then quit using it after losing to the 201st team in the nation

*To comply with the Big Ten sportsmanship code, the "Bum of the Game" has been replaced by the "Player to Watch": Tai Webster

Hello Ragers, and welcome back to Crisler! The Wolverines are back at home after a tough loss to The Fighting Illini in Champaign. Tonight, we face the Cornhuskers from Lincoln, Nebraska. This is a big game for Michigan, as the team looks to bounce back from a two game losing streak.

According to Basketball-Reference, Nebraska has had the hardest strength of schedule of any team in college basketball. Perhaps this accounts for their surprisingly poor 9-7 record, despite being tied for second in the Big 10. Regardless, Nebraska's schedule won't be getting any easier after playing the Wolverines!

The Land of the Corn: As fans of a team located in one of the most interesting states in the country, there is a certain level of pity we should feel for the Nebraska Cornhuskers. Why, you may ask? Well, the answer is quite obvious; Nebraska is possibly the most boring place to live in in the world. Major activities include: growing corn, looking at corn, and finally, eating corn. To put it in other words, it really shucks to live in Nebraska. Therefore, when the starting lineups are being announced, please keep a spot in your heart for the poor residents of Nebraska.

Ed Sorrow: Starting Forward Ed Morrow Jr., a defensive anchor for the Cornhuskers, was sidelined indefinitely after injuring his right foot during the Northwestern game. Expect big performances from Mo and DJ, as Nebraska is missing a big piece without Ed.

The Rest of the Corns: Anton Gill (#1), Jeriah Horne (#2), Jason Shultis (#3), Malcolm Laws (#13), Isaiah Roby (#15), Mohammad Elradi (#21), Nick Fuller (#23), James Palmer Jr. (#24), Ed Morrow (#30), Jordy Tshimanga (#32)

Keep it classy, Rage: As one of college basketball's premiere student sections, it's important that we refrain from swearing or using other slurs throughout the game. The University of Michigan is an institution of class, and as a collective representative, we need to uphold this standard.

The Rage Page is produced by the Maize Rage, an independent student group, for University of Michigan students only. It is funded by the Michigan Student Assembly and does not reflect the views of the Michigan Athletic Department or the University of Michigan.

Have questions, comments, or potential future Rage Page material? Contact Nicole Sigmon, Rage Page Editor (sigmon@umich.edu)

Big Ten Big Men: Both of Michigan's starting big men, Moe Wagner and DJ Wilson, have been off to hot starts through the first four games of the Big Ten slate. Wagner is averaging a solid 11.8 points per game, while DJ Wilson has continued his breakout season with 18 ppg on 63% shooting in conference play.

Give him the Rahk: After a sluggish start to the season and conference play, Muhammad-Ali Abdur-Rahkman has seemed to find his stroke over the last couple of game. The junior guard averaged 13 points and shot at a 52% clip against Maryland and Illinois, and he'll look to continue his hot shooting today!

Dakich's Surprise: John Beilein and the Michigan staff pulled a prank on senior walk-on Andrew Dakich this week. They made Andrew think he was in trouble with the campus police, only to reveal he was instead being awarded a scholarship for the ongoing semester. Congratulations Andrew!

Remember: A maize Michigan shirt, a Michigan basketball jersey, or costume is required to sit in the bleachers.

Visit our website at maizerage.org and follow us on Twitter @UMMaizeRage. To sign up for weekly newsletters and important Rage tidbits, send an email to sigmon@umich.edu requesting that your name be added.

Cheers: Be steady and DON'T SPEED UP

Offense:

- Here we go Michigan, here we go!
(clap clap)
- Let's Go Michigan! (clap, clap, clap
clap clap)
- Go, Blue, Go! (clap clap clap)
- Let's Go Blue! (clap)
- Go Blue! (clap clap)

Defense:

- Popcorn (Jump up and down while screaming OHHHHH!!)
- Bounce! Bounce! Pass! (Yell
"bounce" when the opposition dribbles, and "pass" when they pass)

Mo Money, Mo Buckets: Every time Moritz Wagner hits a three, rub your thumb and fingers together as if you were rubbing coins or bills together

The Alumni Corner

Wolverines in the NBA: Rookie Caris LeVert set a new career high in scoring last week against the Cavs with 19 points. Caris didn't miss a shot inside the arc all night, going a perfect 5-5 on two-point FGs and 3-3 from the free throw line.

Tweet of the Week: "I can't wait to have a whole mess of cast iron skillet's is really a thought I just had. I don't even enjoy cooking that much" - Stu Douglass (@SWD_317), Class of 2012, on one of his aspirations in life