Good-evening Maize Rage, and welcome back to Crisler Center for Michigan's final tune-up before traveling to Hawaii for the Maui Invitational next week. The Wolverines will be playing the Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles, who finished last season with an unspectacular 9-22 record, going 6-12 in Conference USA. Michigan has gotten off to slow starts in the first two games before ultimately pulling away at the end, and will be looking for a hot start tonight. Lets make sure to get loud from the opening tip and help the team get going early on.

Impact Transfer: Michigan fans have gotten to witness the early success of Kentucky transfer Charles Matthews, but Southern Miss also has a high-profile transfer from a power conference school. Point guard Tyree Griffin spent his first two years at Oklahoma State and is now eligible to play after sitting out last year as a transfer. In the first game of the season last Friday, Griffin scored 21 points, pulled down 13 rebounds, and dished out 5 assists in a 79-69 win over Southern New Orleans. It will be interesting to see how well he responds to the aggressive defense of Xavier Simpson.

Not To Be Overshadowed: The Golden Eagles' second-leading scorer from their season opener is also a Division I transfer. Dominic Magee is a transfer from Grand Canyon University who scored 15 points off the bench to go with 7 rebounds. He showed his aggression, getting to the free throw line 16 times in just 21 minutes of action, making 11 of his 16 attempts.

The Rest of the Golden Eagles: Dominic Magee (#0), Rodney Gill (#3), Josh Conley (#10), LaDavius Draine (#11), Eddie Davis III (#15), Anfernee Hampton (#21), Clay Weatherspoon (#30), Leonard Haper-Baker (#32)

Keep it classy, Rage: As one of college basketball's premiere student sections, it's important that we refrain from swearing or using other slurs throughout the game. The University of Michigan is an institution of class, and as a collective representative, we need to uphold this standard.

Working Out The Kinks: Michigan shot just over 29% from the three point line in their 72-65 win over Central Michigan. They rank 194th in the NCAA in three point percentage this year, shooting only 32% from behind the arc. Expect the Wolverine offense to shake off the early struggles, led by sharpshooter Duncan Robinson who is shooting 40% from deep in his first two games.

Things Are Looking Up: Jon Teske played 10 minutes against Central Michigan. He recorded 4 points, 2 blocks, 1 steal, and an assist. Look for him to continue to improve down in the paint, as he could be a big inside presence off the bench.

Efficiency: Xavier Simpson has gotten off to a hot start this year. So far, he's shooting 66% from the field and 60% from behind the arc. He is also averaging six assists per game and two steals in only 22 minutes of play.
