

Owls projected starting line-up:

0 Kendrick Ray 6'2" G

Ray apparently enjoys juicing up, as he tweeted that he "needed some more *syringe emoji*"

2 Jordan Jones 6'8" F

In case you missed his name, his Twitter bio begins with "I'm Jordan Jones"

11 Kyle Clarke 6'5" G

Thinks Derwin James (FSU) is better than Jabrill Peppers

14 Aubrey Williams 6'7" F

Probably wishes he protected the paint as well as he protects his tweets

21 Nick Masterson 6'6" G

Reading his tweets is almost as boring as watching him play basketball

HC Al Skinner

Played seven years in the NBA for the New York Nets, Detroit Pistons, and Philadelphia 76ers

*To comply with the Big Ten sportsmanship code, the "Bum of the Game" has been replaced by the "Player to Watch": Kendrick Ray

Hoo do our Michigan Wolverines host this afternoon? They host the Kennesaw State Owls!

The Owls are currently 3-5 after beating Florida A&M and are here in beautiful Ann Arbor to play their 3rd game on the road. After today, they'll have 3 more games to play away from home before conference season starts. Ouch. To complicate the season a little bit more, Kennesaw State's roster is chock-full of underclassmen with 10 of their 15 players listed as freshmen or sophomores.

Ball is Life: Kendrick Ray's (#0) brother (Allan) and sister (Brittany) are former Villanova and Rutgers basketball players, respectively. Allan signed with the Celtics for the 2006-07 season.

Euro Fest: Similar to how our very own Moe Wagner hails from Germany and is now playing college ball, Johannes Nielsen (#10) and Kosta Jankovic (#33) also have European roots!

Player Fun Facts: Jordan Jones (#2) thought that "daniela bishop" was the hottest freshman last year. Tyler Hooker (#4) follows @SexualPosts and @TheSexualGIFs on Twitter. Shazier Lawson (#22) played for Arizona State for a season before transferring closer to home; he saw a whopping 6 minutes of action in Tempe, grabbing one rebound and recording a single block.

The Rest of the Owls: Isaac Mbuyamba (#5), James Scott (#12), Anthony Wilson (#13), Cameron Neysmith (#15), Josh Burnett (#24), Zach Cameron (#35).

Keep it classy, Rage: As one of college basketball's premiere student sections, it's important that we refrain from swearing or using other slurs throughout the game. The University of Michigan is an institution of class, and as a collective representative, we need to uphold this standard.

The Rage Page is produced by the Maize Rage, an independent student group, for University of Michigan students only. It is funded by the Michigan Student Assembly and does not reflect the views of the Michigan Athletic Department or the University of Michigan.

Attacking the Hoop: Despite only playing 18 minutes after being sick all day, Moritz Wagner had a strong outing against Virginia Tech, scoring 11 points on 5/6 shooting. He showed the ability to attack the basket very well for a center with a few impressive reverse layups.

Irvin Continues his Bounceback: Despite missing the key shot in the final minute against Virginia Tech, Zak Irvin had a very strong game, scoring 23 points on 10/20 shooting. This was his highest scoring output since March 3, 2015, when he scored 28 points in a double overtime loss at Northwestern.

Finding a Role: Duncan Robinson had his best game since he began coming off the bench, scoring 15 points on 6/11 shooting in the loss against Virginia Tech, nearly hitting a the game tying three pointer at the end of regulation.

The Alumni Corner

Wolverines in the Pros: Glenn Robinson III is on an absolute tear for the Indiana Pacers. In his last three games (November 25-30), he's averaged 17.3 points per game on 66% shooting and 64% from beyond the arc. Nik Stauskas ranks 6th in the NBA in 3 point shooting percentage at 45.1% from beyond the arc.

Tweet of the Week: "I wonder if @SpikeAlbrecht was first on @UofLBasketball's scouting report tonight." - Zack Novak, Class of 2012
