

Hornets projected starting line-up:

10 Kavon Waller 6'5" F

He is probably their best player. At 0-8 though, that statistic does not mean much.

12 Joseph Lewis 6'9" C

His Twitter handle is @D1Dreams _____. He achieved them!

1 DeAndre Haywood 6'2" G

There is nothing interesting about DeAndre Haywood.

5 Malik Carter 6'2" G

Malik is a junior college transfer.

35 Todd Hughes 6'3" G

He is shooting a whopping .270 from the floor.

HC Keith Walker

Last year Coach Walker lead DSU to their first post season home game in program history.

To comply with the Big Ten sportsmanship code, the "Bum of the Game" has been replaced by the "Player to Watch": DeAndre Haywood

Good afternoon, Crisler! Exam season maybe in full swing, but the best study break is watching the Wolverine team take on the Delaware State Hornets. The Hornets come into Crisler with a disheartening 0-8 record, still chasing that elusive win. Despite their historical lack of program pedigree, the program has been on the rise in recent years. They were able to make the postseason last year, losing to Radford in the first round of the CBI. They have one NCAA Tournament appearance that took place in 2005, losing to Duke 57-46. Hopefully their losing streak continues as we make it loud, proud, and keep it 100!

Briefly: The only thing on Chali Thomas's (#4) mind is basketball... and the bench. Devin Morgan (#11) loves Vines, like absolutely LOVES them. Mahir Johnson (#13) will be here solely just Swanginnnn. Mrdjan Gasevic (#20) is known as "Big Serb" down low. Dana Raysor (#21) has tweeted 13.8K times. Aric Dickerson (#22) was a great RB for the Rams and SMU back in the day. He is now reborn again and plays basketball for Delaware State.

Road "Warriors": According to the Delaware State website, the Hornets will travel a total of 26,000 miles combined this season. In addition to Michigan, Delaware State traveled to fellow B1G Ten member Nebraska earlier in the year losing 60-75.

Let the Cold War Begin Anew: Artem Tavakalyan (#24) hails from Moscow, Russia, while our own Moritz Wagner is from Berlin, Germany. This contest between the two will be the closest thing to the Cold War that Crisler will ever see.

The Rest of the Hornets: Jason Owens (#23), DeVaughn Mallory (#44), Demola Onifade (#55).

Keep it classy, Rage: As one of college basketball's premiere student sections, it's important that we refrain from swearing or using other slurs throughout the game. The University of Michigan is an institution of class, and as a collective representative, we need to uphold this standard.

The Rage Page is produced by the Maize Rage, an independent student group, for University of Michigan students only. It is funded by the Michigan Student Assembly and does not reflect the views of the Michigan Athletic Department or the University of Michigan.

Thank you, Spike: Yesterday, Spike announced that his career as a basketball player has ended. He plans to focus the rest of his time at the University of Michigan recovering from his hip surgeries and on his coursework. We are all thankful for Spike's leadership over the years and will always remember that 17 point first half in the 2013 National Championship game.

Float Like a Butterfly, Sting Like a Bee: Despite the loss to SMU last Tuesday, Muhammad-Ali Abdur-Rahkman was one of game's bright spots! He tallied 15 points and 2 steals in front of a raucous crowd of 7,000.

From Downtown!: Duncan Robinson continues to prove himself as a serious offensive threat. He is shooting 58.8% on 51 3 point attempts and is averaging 11.9 PPG after scoring 15 at SMU. Duncan continues to impress in his first year playing at Michigan.

"A"-BOMB: When Aubrey Dawkins hits a three, drop back in your seats as if a bomb has violently shaken Crisler Arena.
