0 Matt Donlan 6'7" F

He thinks he's a mismatch on the offensive end for any three or four. We'll see about that.

5 Sidney Umude 6'7" F

He uses fllwrs.com to track how many people follow and unfollow him. His social media game is strong.

15 Brett Frantz 6'3" G

20 Bobby Hain 6'10" F

He claims that he is a "Master Jedi" on his Twitter account.

23 Francisco Santiago 6'1" G

Welcome back to Crisler, Maize Rage! Finals are in full swing and the best study break is cheering on the Wolverine team as they take on the Youngstown State Penguins! Today's game kicks off our 3-game stretch of break games. We play Bryant University Wednesday the 23rd and kick off the B1G home season with Penn State on January 2nd. Let's make some extra noise and get #CrislerLOUD! Go Blue!

Briefly: Youngstown State finished last season with an 11-21 record. Currently 5-6, the Penguins will open a 4-game road trip at Crisler Arena, where they are 0-4 all-time against our Wolverines. The last time these programs faced off was way back in 2006!

The March of the Penguins: Michigan will be the second B1G team that the Penguins face this season, after losing to Purdue at Mackey Arena 64-95 a week ago. Despite the epic nature of playing two B1G teams, Morgan Freeman does not narrate the Youngstown State basketball games.

Penguin Trivia!: Devin Haygood (#2) could use a best friend who he can just be himself with. Ryan Strollo (#10) is worried about the future of Chipotle. Jordan Andrews (#25) has a big fear of clowns. Bryce Nickels (#33) loves "girls wit leg sleeves" and once spelled Purdue as Perdue.

The Rest of the Penguins: Latin Davis (#11), Tyler Warford (#14), Cameron Morse (#24), Jorden Kaufman (#32).

Keep it classy, Rage: As one of college basketball's premiere student sections, it's important that we refrain from swearing or using other slurs throughout the game. The University of Michigan is an institution of class, and as a collective representative, we need to uphold this standard.

The Rage Page is produced by the Maize Rage, an independent student group, for University of Michigan students only. It is funded by the Michigan Student Assembly and does not reflect the views of the Michigan Athletic Department or the University of Michigan.

Tuesday was a Good Day: On Tuesday's game versus Northern Kentucky, Caris Levert made his way into the Michigan basketball history books. Caris became the fourth player in Wolverine history to score a triple double. What an impressive stat; but wait, there's more! In that same game, Caris reached his 1000th career point. This is an epic feat, considering injuries and the fact that he was playing off of the bench early in his career. Caris has proven his status as a Michigan man. Interestingly enough, the crowd's uproar over the achievements of Caris prompted a bizarre response from Coach Beilein. He stated that he thought the ushers gave the crowd free hamburgers which created the raucous celebration. Between Coach Beilein's humor and the records that Caris set, it's great to be a Michigan Wolverine!

Remember: A maize Michigan shirt, a Michigan basketball jersey, or costume is required to sit in the bleachers

Defense:

- Popcorn (Jump up and down while screaming OHHHHH!!)
- Bounce! Bounce! Pass! (Yell "bounce" when the opposition dribbles, and "pass" when they pass)

"A"-BOMB: When Aubrey Dawkins hits a three, drop back in your seats as if a bomb has violently shaken Crisler Arena.
