

Hoosiers projected starting lineup:

4 Robert Johnson 6'3" G

This sophomore started most games last year and has started every game since Duke early December.

5 Troy Williams 6'7" F

Known as an above-average rebounder, Williams was suspended last year for a failed drug test.

11 Yogi Ferrell 6'0" G

IU's all-time assist leader is also a deadly 3-point shooter and an eternal thorn in UM's side.

30 Colin Hartman 6'7" F

Hartman is a junior who's trying to lose the "just a shooter" moniker, albeit unsuccessfully.

31 Thomas Bryant 6'10" C

This former McDonald's All-American has become more confident as the season progressed.

HC Tom Crean

This insecure coach refuses to shoot hoops with brother-in-law, Coach Harbaugh.

To comply with the Big Ten sportsmanship code, the "Bum of the Game" has been replaced by the "Player to Watch": Colin Hartman

Good evening, Crisler! Today is America's favorite holiday, Groundhogs day, and our furry friend indicated that there is only five weeks until the Big Ten Tournament. Tonight's Super Tuesday is extra super for the Wolverines, as they face off against the least impressive Harbaugh relative and his Hoosiers. The Wolverines and Hoosiers have battled on February 2nd two out of the last three years, but this marks the first on our own hardwood. Let's get loud and proud, and cheer on our Wolverines to another marquee victory!

Briefly: Indiana is 18-4 entering tonight, coming off a tough road loss to Wisconsin and a tight win against Minnesota. The Hoosiers aren't lacking for trademark shooters, but they can be streaky like the off brand of Windex. Pay close attention to Coach Crean's on court antics. His sharpest moves include, but are not limited to, standing in bounds during game-play and repeatedly pulling up his pants.

That's Calf-tastic: A familiar face returns to Crisler tonight, as grad transfer Max "Moose" Bielfeldt and his delicious calves are back in town. He's played solid minutes this year, and he's firmly established himself within the primary rotation. By the looks of those legs, he eats his spinach!

No Pic-a-nic Basket: Yogi Ferrell will be a tough opponent, as he is one of the Big Ten's premier point guards. His versatility is also evidenced by the fact that he can light up the scoreboard (30 against Wisconsin) as well as approach double-doubles (16 points, 9 assists against Illinois).

The Rest of the Hoosiers: James Blackmon, Jr. (#1), Nick Zeisloft (#2), OG Anunoby (#3), Ryan Burton (#10), Juwan Morgan (#13), Harrison Niego (#15), Quentin Taylor (#22), Josh Newkirk (#22), Jackson Tharp (#24), Tim Priller (#35).

Keep it classy, Rage: As one of college basketball's premiere student sections, it's important that we refrain from swearing or using other slurs throughout the game. The University of Michigan is an institution of class, and as a collective representative, we need to uphold this standard.

Coach's Inifniti Challenge: This year, Coach Beilein is sponsoring the Chad Tough Foundation in the Coach's challenge. So far, he is in the lead; however, we cannot rest on our laurels yet. The challenge continues until March 13th! Make sure you vote for Coach Beilein daily, so he can advance to the next round. Voting information can be found on the Inifniti page on the ESPN website! Happy voting, Wolverine nation!

Double Trouble: Over the weekend, both Michigan basketball and hockey took on Penn State in a double feature at Madison Square Garden. It is safe to say the Wolverines took a bite out of the Big Apple, as both the basketball and hockey team defeated the Nittany Lions. Let's hope they brought a broom and a dust pan, because they got swept!

Remember: A maize Michigan shirt, a Michigan basketball jersey, or costume is required to sit in the bleachers.
