

Scarlet Knights projected starting lineup:

3 Corey Sanders 6'2" G

His name on Twitter is Iverson, Jr. He's got a ways to go to become as great as Allen Iverson.

5 Mike Williams 6'2" G

He is a career 25.8% three point shooter on 199 attempts. Feel free to leave him open!

2 Bishop Daniels 6'3" G

He is rated as the #4 Dunker in the class of 2011 by Rivals. Get your video cameras out, folks.

33 D.J. Foreman 6'8" F

His twitter handle is @bucketteam_dj, but Rutgers is 13th out of 14 teams in the B1G averaging 67.9 PPG.

35 Greg Lewis 6'9" F

Despite his height, he's shooting just 36.7% from the field this season, down over 10% from last season.

HC Eddie Jordan

The former Washington Wizards coach is 28-57 in his 3rd season coaching the Rutgers Scarlet Knights.

Good evening from Crisler Arena! After the impressive win at Nebraska on Saturday, the Michigan Wolverines will take on the Rutgers Scarlet Knights. One of the most notable Michigan-Rutgers matchups came when the Wolverines beat the Scarlet Knights 62-55 in the 2004 NIT Championship game. Rutgers is currently winless in the Big Ten and they are losing conference games by an average of 25.4 points per game; however, they were able to stay relatively close with Big Ten leader Iowa, losing by only 14 points last week. The Scarlet Knights lost their last two scorers from a year ago and are clearly still trying to find their footing in their second season in the Big Ten Conference. Let's encourage the losing spirit of Rutgers, and cheer on the Wolverines to victory! Go Blue!

He's Fresh, Man: One bright spot for Rutgers has been the play of freshman Corey Sanders, who leads the team in scoring (14.1 PPG) and assists (3.6 APG). The 62nd ranked recruit (and the #9 point guard) in the 2015 Class by ESPN, Sanders is an explosive athlete who attacks the basket strongly and has excellent ball-handling skills. He has done very well to replace 4-year starting point guard Myles Mack, who graduated after last season.

Owies and Boo Boos: Forward Jonathan Laurent (#4) returned from a five game absence due to a concussion in Rutgers' last game against Iowa and finished with 14 points on 6/10 shooting. Additionally, Head Coach Eddie Jordan announced on January 18th that the team's second leading scorer Deshawn Freeman (#33) will miss the rest of the season with a knee injury. He had been averaging 13.1 PPG and 5.3 RPG in the first seven games of the season.

The Rest of the Scarlet Knights: Justin Goode (#10), Khalil Batie (#13), Jake Dadika (#15), Nigel Johnson (#22), Jalen Hyde (#23), Omari Grier (#31), Ibrahima Diallo (#32), Shaquille Dorson (#40).

To comply with the Big Ten sportsmanship code, the "Bum of the Game" has been replaced by the "Player to Watch": Bishop Daniels

Keep it classy, Rage: As one of college basketball's premiere student sections, it's important that we refrain from swearing or using other slurs throughout the game. The University of Michigan is an institution of class, and as a collective representative, we need to uphold this standard.

Coach's Infiniti Challenge: The Coach's Challenge is an NCAA charity contest where fans can vote for their Coach's favorite charity. 100,000 dollars will be awarded to the Coach's charity with the most votes. The challenge has already started, and ends March 13th. Ohio State head coach, Thad Matta has a winning track record in this challenge; voting for Coach Beilein is not just a vote for a great cause, but another contest in which we can beat Ohio! This year, Coach Beilein is sponsoring the Chad Tough Foundation. Chad Tough is a foundation dedicated to finding the cure for pediatric brain tumors, in honor of the late Chad Carr. You can vote for Coach Beilein on the Infiniti Challenge page on the ESPN website! Vote often, Wolverine nation!

Cheers: Be steady and DON'T SPEED UP

Offense:

- Here we go Michigan, here we go!
(clap clap)
- Let's Go Michigan! (clap, clap, clap
clap clap)
- Go, Blue, Go! (clap clap clap)
- Let's Go Blue! (clap)
- Go Blue! (clap clap)

Defense:

- Popcorn (Jump up and down while screaming OHHHHH!!!)
- Bounce! Bounce! Pass! (Yell
"bounce" when the opposition dribbles, and "pass" when they pass)

"A"-BOMB: When Aubrey Dawkins hits a three, drop back in your seats as if a bomb has violently shaken Crisler Arena.
